

Moreover, the temperature of the snow and ice observed in the borehole in the accumulation area was 0°C throughout the entire mass except for several meters toward the top. But last observation in 1981 showed the temperature of the ice observed in ablation area was about -1°C through the entire mass.